DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 24 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 24 recites the limitation "a subset of the control wires" in the first and second lines of the claim. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-3, 5-9, 12, 14-15, 17, 19-20 and 22-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 6,162,171 to Ng et al.

In regards to claims 1, 14, 19 and 22, Ng et al. disclose an autonomous in-vivo device 1 comprising: a power source 69 and a plurality of moveable arms 11 (See Figs. 1 and 6). Furthermore, Ng et al. disclose an autonomous in-vivo device wherein the moveable arm 11 includes a plurality of segments 14 and 12 (see Col. 4, Lines 2-27).

In regards to claims 2, 15 and 20, Ng et al. disclose an autonomous in-vivo device comprising an imager 7 (see Col. 3, Lines 56).

In regards to claim 3, Ng et al. disclose an autonomous in-vivo device comprising a transmitter (see claim 11 and Col. 6, Lines 24-27). It is well-known in the art that such transmitters communicate via radio waves.

In regards to claim 5, Ng et al. disclose an autonomous in-vivo device wherein the moveable arms 11 are hollow bellows (see Fig. 3).

In regards to claims 6 and 17, Ng et al. disclose an autonomous in-vivo device wherein the moveable arm 11 include a tube 13 (see Col. 4, Lines 11-18).

In regards to claim 7, Ng et al. disclose an autonomous in-vivo device wherein the moveable arm 11 includes a plurality of segments 14 and 12 (see Col. 4, Lines 2-27).

In regards to claims 8 and 23, Ng et al. disclose an autonomous in-vivo device comprising a set of control wires (see Col. 3, Lines 57-61).

In regards to claim 9, Ng et al. disclose an autonomous in-vivo device wherein the moveable arm 11 includes a movement device 16 (se Col. 5, Lines 64-66).

In regards to claim 12, Ng et al. disclose an autonomous in-vivo device comprising a controller 64 to send movement signals to the moveable arm 11 (see Col. 4, Lines 28-61).

3. Claims 10-11, and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 5,662,587 to Grundfest et al.

In regards to claims 10-11 and 18, Grundfest et al. disclose an autonomous in-vivo device comprising: a power source 27; and a moveable arm 211. Furthermore, Grundfest et al. disclose moveable arms wherein they may be actuated by a variety of ways, including pneumatics, hydraulics, electromagnetic actuation, shape memory alloys, magnetostrictive materials, electrostrictive materials, piezoelectric materials, etc. (see Col. 9, Lines 28-42).

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

4. Claims 4, 16, 21 and 24-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 6,402,686 to Ouchi.

In regards to claims 4, 16, 21 and 25, Ouchi discloses an autonomous in-vivo device comprising: a power source 14c; and moveable arms 13 and 15. Furthermore, Ouchi disclose a transmitter 14b for transmitting a radio wave which carries an image formed by the observing system (see Col. 1, Line 56 – Col.2, Line 6).

In regards to claim 24, Ouchi discloses an autonomous in-vivo device comprising: an imager 17b; arms 13 and 15 extending from the device, the arms comprising a plurality of segments. Furthermore, Ouchi discloses the device wherein a subset of control wires 22a(22b) control movement in a first direction, and wherein a subset of the control wires 22a(22b) control movement in a second direction (see Col. 6, Lines 20-40).

5. Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 6,719,684 to Kim et al.

Art Unit: 3739

In regards to claim 13, Kim et al. disclose an autonomous in-vivo device comprising: a power source 14; and a moveable arm 15a. Furthermore, Kim et al. disclose a device comprising a storage tank 21.
